VINTAGE '73

Dennis-

As I explained last night at the party, the reason for our impasse was mighty dumb, and her name is Anne. Hopefully we can disregard some of this past sense. sometime from now in order to receptive for a while you may have interpreted your past. For a while you may have interpreted your resentment to your extra-curricular activities and my like for them, but this is senseless. If I were to hold that against you, I would lose every friend I have. As it is, I could be with Steve, numerous other friend I have. As it is, I could be with Steve, numerous apologies and clarifications made, but these aired with the passing of time.

Hamlet

Dennis - its been fun knowing you these past four years. We haven't agreed on much in politics, but that shouldn't stand in the way of friendship. Good luck (as if you need it). You've band to be successful at something. See you later.

VINTAGE '73 PRESENTS -

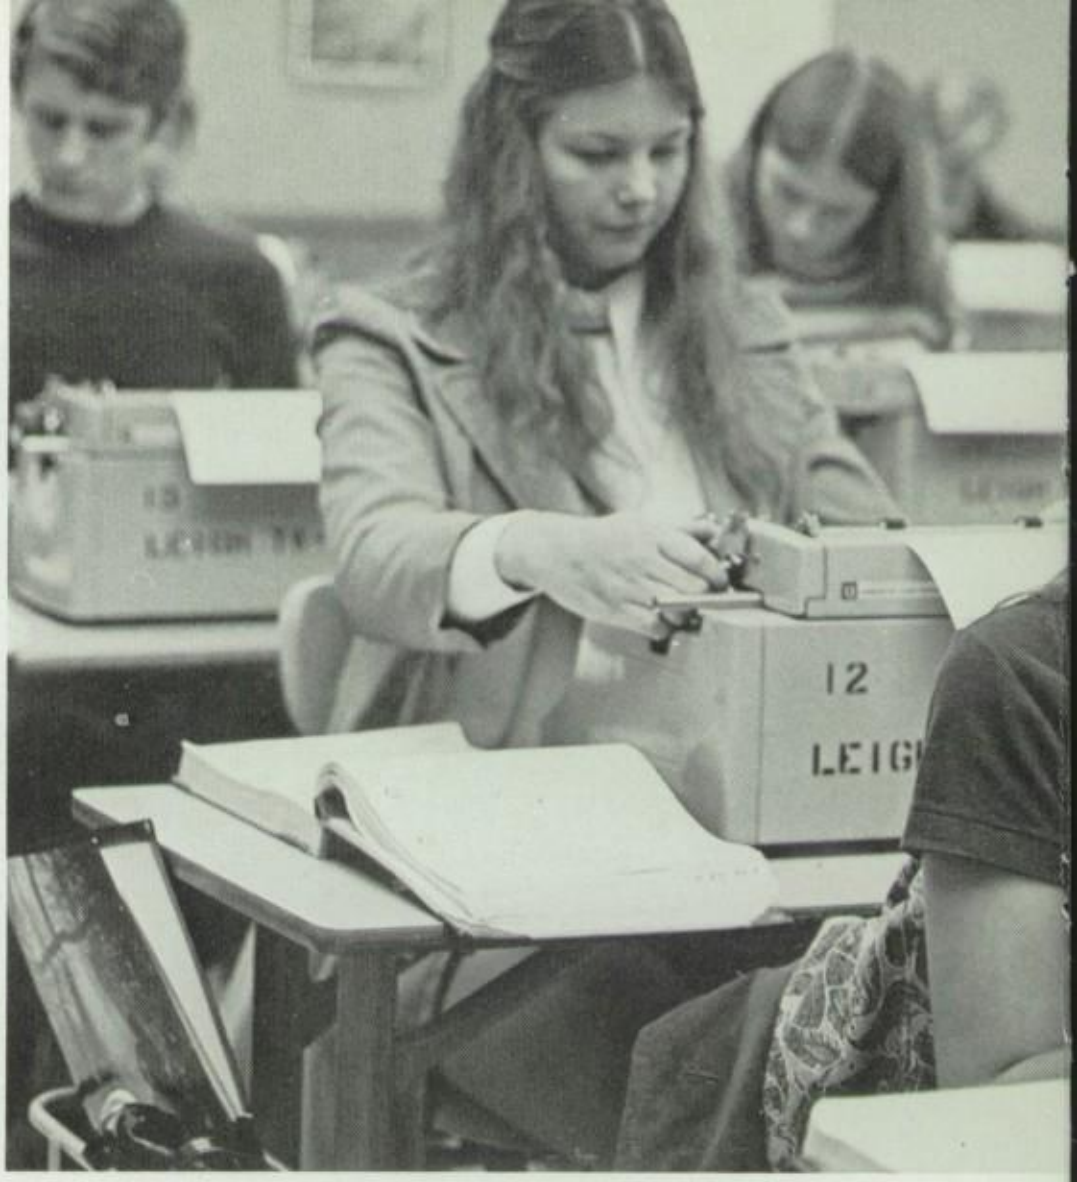
ON THE SUBLIME AND THE BEAUTIFUL

VOLUME 11

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA

The introductory section was assembled by Greg Venerella. The cover picture was photographed by Gary Morrow.

the vast diversity of human nature supplies many possibilities for the occupation of the mind



IF YOU DON'T KNOW HOW--ASK!
Doing it right will save you time and be SAFER

one of the most sublime qualities in man is his abysmal thirst for knowledge

If men gave themselves up to imitation entirely, there would never be any improvement amongst them

From among the ranks of Leigh's finest benefactors, Mr. Stone has distinguished himself with a remarkable uniqueness of character and ethicality of conduct. The presence of Mr. Stone upon the Leigh setting has been so customary as to become assumed—he has been teaching at Leigh for nine years out of Leigh's eleven year history—yet his absence would mar our school with a flagrant deficiency. Those fortunate students who have been taught by Mr. Stone will testify to an alacrity of spirit on his part with respect to the expression of equitable judgments, as well as judicious opinions. Mr. Stone has always been a student of mathematics as well as of life, never ceasing to increase his knowledge in both from a complacent feeling of a satiety of information concerning both topics. Evincing a veracious interest in students, Mr. Stone's conduct refutes the theory of aestival termination of education by partaking in the annual peregrination in Europe. Employing this opportunity to continue his as well as the students' whom he guides cultural advancements, he has never ceased to display his concern for young adults. Indeed, for possessing such an uncanny rapport with students, VINTAGE '73 feels elation in being able to give Mr. Stone his quasi-apotheosis in being the subject of this year's dedication.

beauty can be depicted by singleness
as well as by a conglomeration of interests

The utter pulchritude conveyed by an object whose components are ineffably en rapport with each other, or a congeries of objects in which there are no anomalous members is conducive to the contemplation of inner beauty, complemented by thoughts of a primal simplicity. When man stands in meditation of such perfection he is instilled with a subliminal sentience comparable to that evoked by a vision of utter vastness, which induces us to assume a correlation among the salience of meditative induction through singleness, abysmal vastness, and a harmonious agglomeration.

AMERICAN OPTICAL

we differ widely in our reasonings and no less in our tastes

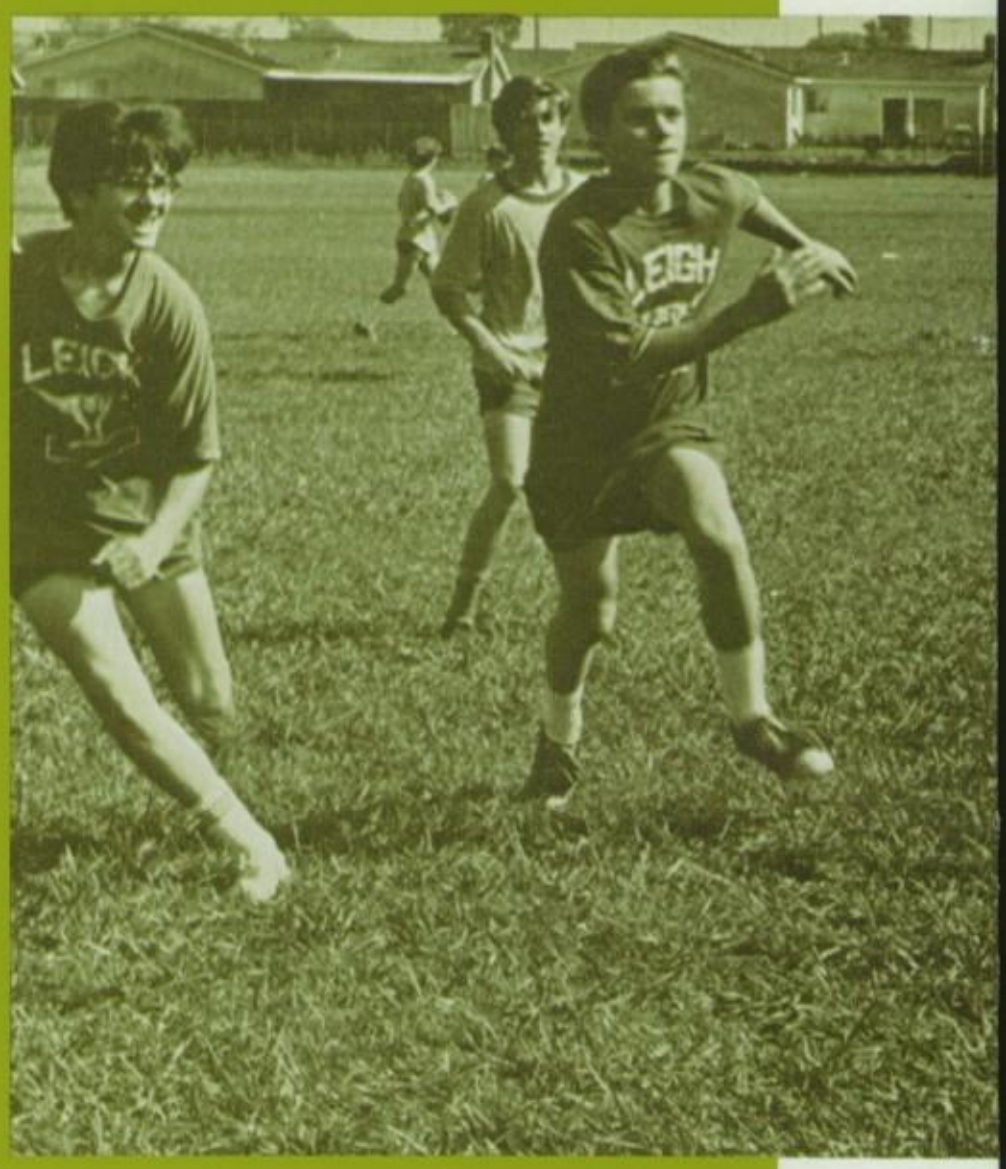
No one species evinces such obvious diversity as does HOMO SAPIENS. Men are individuals; they act and are recognized as individuals. The root of man's apparent distinctions in cultivation and ratiocination stem from the multifarious facets of his imagination. The singular, distinguishing factor between men, the one component of the conscious capable of deriving differences is that nebulous nether world of the imagination. It is your imagination which makes you who you are, which gives you individuality within your own genre. The power of the imagination is most effectively expressed by the uniqueness of the individuone.

man has a sense of ambition and a feeling of satisfaction arising from excelling his fellows



Ambition is an inherent drive in men which makes him active, intent, full of alacrity, and stirring. Yet, if it be not judiciously dispersed, it becomes hot and fiery, and therefore malevolent and subversive. So ambitious men, if they find a channel with which to quell their need to rise above their foes and still remain sincere, then they are busy rather than dangerous; but were their desires to be unnaturally allayed, they become dissatisfied and venomous miscreants. The harmless expulsion of this energy and drive are the accomplishing factors sports offers.

Sincere congratulations to the members of the 1973 class.

I hope that your experiences and associations of the past four years have been such that learning will become a lifelong habit.

As you enter another phase of life may each of you experience the fulfillment of personal aspirations and ambitions.

In September, 1969, the scene was one of chaos and confusion at Leigh. From this exciting beginning the Class of 1973 began to build a spirit which has continued through four years of study, hard work, and activities. Filling out the ranks of clubs and commissions, Freshmen gained experience which continues to serve them well. The Class of 1973 found in its Freshman year a time for exploring and experiencing all the wonders of high school life.

The Class's Sophomore year was one of maturing and developing to prepare for the future. Starting the year with a new dress code, which all the school worked hard to acquire, the Class saw highlights in the All-School Play, the Class Party, Soph Science, and the Sophomore Rally. Our Sophomore year, the year of the Longhorn, allowed Leigh to cheer our Basketball team to repeated victories, and the Football team to a league championship.

Catapulted into positions of leadership and responsibility, the new Junior Class occupied several positions of commissionerships, club presidencies, and council seats. Earning money through the traditional magazine sale, the Class was able to climax the year with its Junior Prom.

As it does every Senior Class, a sense of destiny filled the new Seniors as they entered once again the halls of Leigh in September. Assuming major positions of the school's vital activities with characteristic self-confidence, the Senior Class gave Leigh some of its finest hours. Dominating most clubs and commissions by active numbers, the Class of 1973 was collectively involved in an unprecedented number of the available activities, and qualified their involvement with a potent unity of interests. The Disneyland Trip and the Senior Ball, "It's only the Beginning," were in close competition as to the acme of the Class's final year at Leigh.

At that stage in life when friends and acquaintances play important roles in the development of values, we Seniors completed perhaps the most beneficial of phases in which we were to modify and cultivate methods of relating with others.

CARIN ZETTERLUND

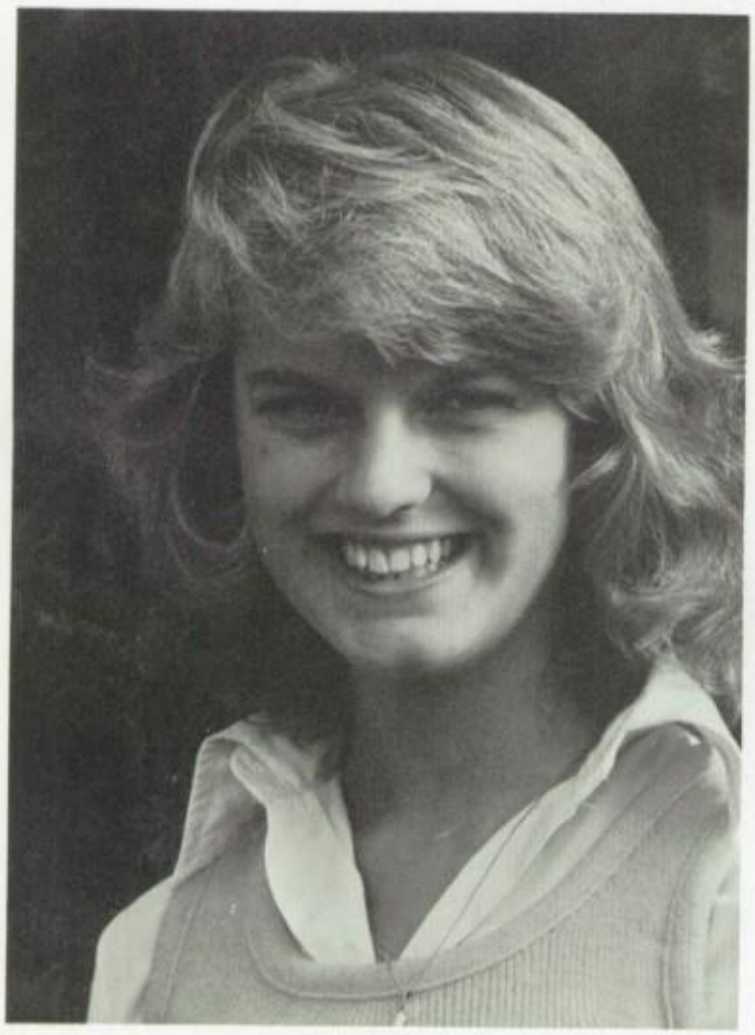
students from abroad: a welcome addition to leigh



Hi! My name is Francisco Lorca and I'm an exchange student from Chile. I came to America in February and I'm leaving in July. I'm living with a nice American family and I'm having a very good time here. Leigh is a beautiful school and I have made very good friends. I like sports very much and I'm on the tennis team. United States as Chile is a very good country; all the people are really nice.

Sincerely,
Francisco Lorca

Hi! I am Carin Zetterlund, one of those Swedes who were around campus the year 1972/73.

Well, what can I say except that I have had a most enjoyable year at Leigh and I have met many nice people here. I may not have learned as much academically as I would have in Sweden, but that's not what I came here for. Your schools are different in many respects from ours. One thing is that you have less liberty than we do; we also have more subjects.

It has been a fun experience, I thank you very much and I hope to see some of you again sometime.

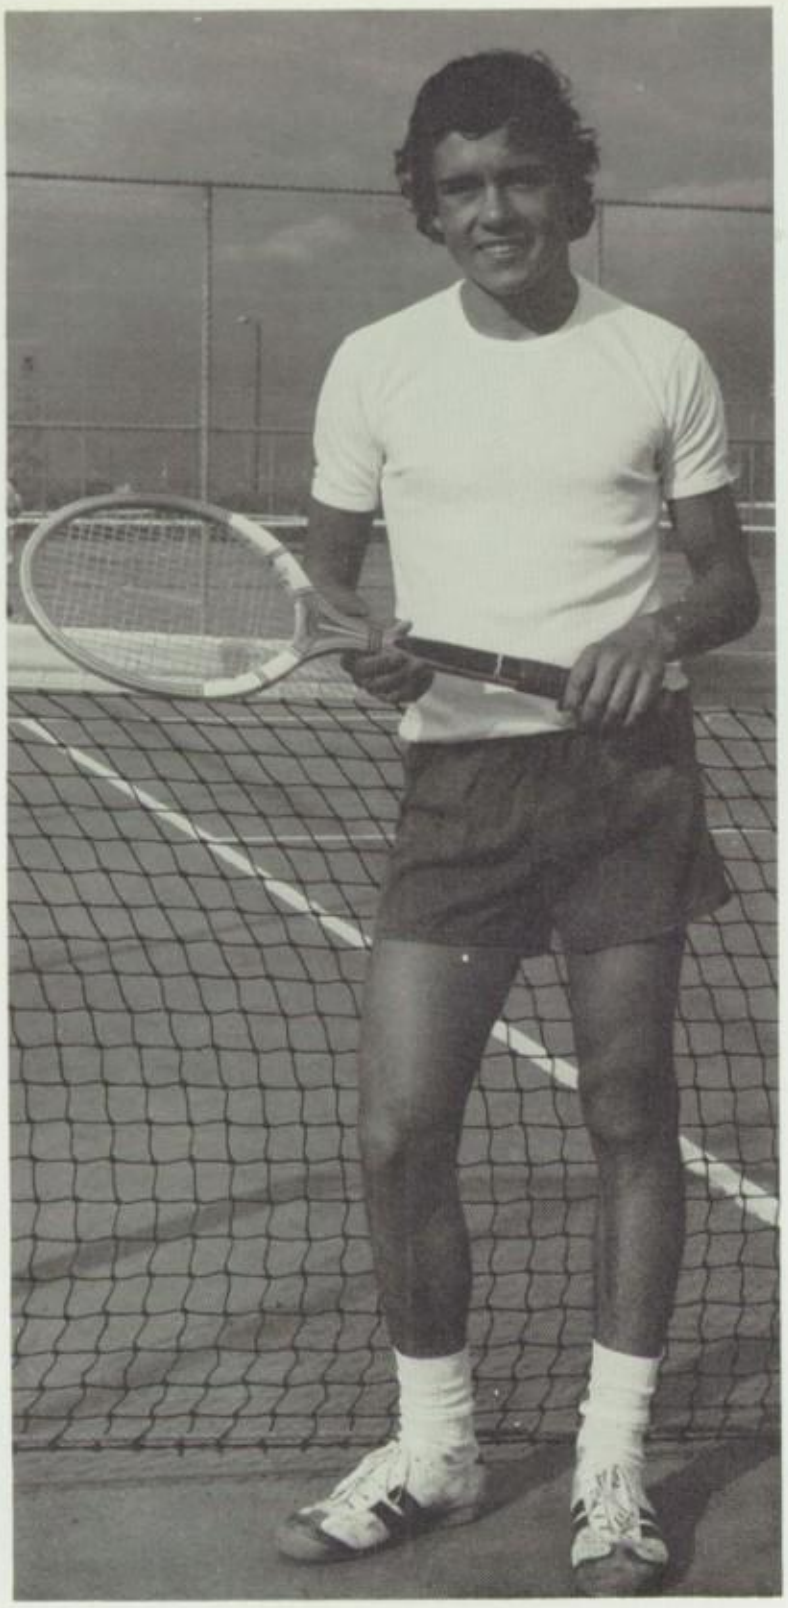
Hej och mangå hälsignar från
Carin Zetterlund

I am the guy from Bolivia who arrived here in August and will be leaving in July, 1973. During this year it was a lot of fun to meet young people in America.

Back in my country I used to study a lot more since I don't get to choose my subjects like you do here, but I think it is a good method for a student that wants to do something specific. Another thing I found peculiar is that almost all the guys at school really care about and practice sports. I think that is something I am going to teach in my school because all the guys in my town don't care too much about sports since there are other things to do.

All the people at Leigh seem very friendly and the teachers were a lot of help in my senior year.

Sincerely,
Victor Ayala



Hi Leigh! I can't tell you how much fun I've had this year. I have been all over the Pacific Northwest, I have lived with a great family, and I have met so many nice people, especially here at Leigh. The first few days I felt kind of confused because Leigh has more people than the village I live in alone, but all the friendly teachers and students soon made me feel like I had been going here at Leigh all my life.

This year has really been a fantastic experience for me and I want to thank everybody at Leigh for being so great. If you ever happen to go to Sweden, and you pass through Bjursas, stop by and see me, okay?

Tack och hej så länge.
Lars Larsson

Bonjour! Je m'appele . . . . . well even if I tell you my name it won't come out right when you pronounce it (and I don't blame you!), so let's just say I am the French girl staying in California for one year, okay?

I already graduated last year in France but I really had fun taking one more year here as a senior. You may wonder why. I'll tell you. When your counselor ASKS you what you would LIKE to study at the beginning of the year, when you get involved in social or athletic activities inside school, or even when a new face tells you "Hi!" in the main hall, you don't mind spending six or more hours here each day.

A big bravo and thanks to Leigh High School and my American family which both made my stay here in the USA unforgettable.

Au revoir!
Laurence Moynier

Homecoming, a special tradition honoring both student body and alumni was highlighted this year in the selection of the Longhorn's queen, Becky Fahlbusch, and her two princesses, who reigned over the activities involved. We are honored in having these special people represent the class of 1973.

COACH'S MESSAGE

In this day and age when it is fashionable for many young people to "do their own thing", which is another way of saying they are taking the easy way out, it is truly gratifying to acknowledge those young men who have gallantly represented their school with pride on the athletic field. I know that their dedication and sacrifice will surely be rewarded in later life.

To the graduating seniors I extend my sincerest gratitude for their efforts over the past four years.

To the underclassmen I pledge my whole-hearted support, that they may fulfill their ambitions through athletic participation in the coming years.

Coach Galloni

I wish those guys would quit chasing me.

CROSS-COUNTRY 1972 - SUMMARIZED

1972 TEAM SUMMARY - This year we had the most successful team in our school's history. A dual meet record of 36-0 for the four teams made our record 106-2 over the last three years. At the W.V.A.L. finals we had four individual winners along with first place varsity, J.V., and Sophomore teams and a 2nd place in the freshman class. This gave Leigh four league championships, one being a co-championship with Saratoga in the freshman division.

At the South Area meet (formerly regions III and IV), our teams again did well with four individual winners and three team titles with a third place finish in the frosh division.

The Central Coast Section meet ended our season. Although pre-race favorites, our varsity team ended up a disappointing second due to injuries and sickness. Despite this, our other three teams came through as expected and won section titles.

Individually, Matt Sommer led the team throughout the season and was undefeated in league competition. He won the Blossom Hill challenge, League finals, and the area meet. At the postal meet he missed Jack Bellah's school record in the two mile by only two seconds.

MATT SOMMER - 1st team All Northern California Cross-Country Team. Most outstanding Leigh Runner.
DAVE STOCK - All Nor Cal Honorable Mention. Most Inspirational Leigh runner.
RON FRITZKE - All Nor Cal Second team. Most outstanding Sophomore runner.
BRUCE ORR - All Nor Cal Honorable Mention.
PHIL MELICKER - Most Outstanding Freshman runner.

Bruce Orr, Dave Stock, and Ron Fritzke battled for the team's number two spot throughout the season. Orr, a junior, finished third at the league and area meets and tied Stock for 14th place at the section meet. His best race was a second place finish at the Mt. Madonna invitational. Dave Stock, also a junior, beat Sommer at the Milpitas Invitational, which was the only time a fellow team member beat Matt. Dave also placed 2nd at Blossom Hill and 4th at the league meet. Sophomore Ron Fritzke won the Soph division at Aptos and Milpitas by close to a minute each time. He also took the Soph class at the league and area meets. Ed Hawkins, Steve Hiedrauer, Mike Hansen, and John Tengelsen added the depth which made our varsity team so outstanding. All seven varsity runners placed in the top nine in our league, as ten of the top thirteen in the league were from Leigh.

Much of the junior varsity team's success was dependent upon the Maurer twins. Keith won two invitationals along with the league and area meets. Pete, always giving his brother a close race, tied with Keith for third place at the section meet. Other outstanding runners were Vic Smart, Ed Wilmoth, Larry Towner, Paul Kinsey, Tom Shepard, and Ken Johnson.

Running in the shadow of Ron Fritzke, Sophomore Richard Ballard and Bob Melnychuk finished second and third at the league, and fifth and sixth at the area, respectively. Melnychuck's second place effort and Dutch Perez's fifth place finish pulled the Sophomore team to a C.C.S. championship despite the absence of Fritzke. Adding exceptional strength to the team were Dave Cook, Steve Sullivan, Greg Evans, Mickey Manasseri, and Liam Denevan.

Cornell Vander Veen won two invitationals and placed second to Phil Melicker at the section meet. Phil also won the league, area, and all nine dual meets as the pair led the Freshman team to a Section Championship. Other standouts were Richard Antel, Mike Lamert, Matt Sullivan, Greg Galaski, Mike Nanfito, Mike Walker and Richard Ballard.

Longhorn Varsity Basketball shows strength and determination

Organized high school sports have value if those who participate grow in maturity, acquire habits of self-discipline, and gain lasting friendships. Moreover, it is hoped that the young men will learn that sacrifice, dedication, and loyalty to friends and associates is a necessary part of both team sports and of life itself.

I am confident that the members of the 1972-1973 Varsity basketball team learned some of these values this past season, and that the season was, therefore, a success.

Coaches: (top, l to r) Miss Moore (basketball and badminton), Mrs. Fox (swimming and gymnastics), Mrs. Schiffman (volleyball), Miss Carey (tennis, hockey and softball), (bottom) Ms. Swart (track).

Girls' Sports is deeply indebted to a group of women who receive little credit during their respective seasons. Our coaches dedicate much time, effort and patience towards the making of our teams. Long practice sessions, especially in individual sports such as tennis, gymnastics and swimming, can be trying; but these ladies bear with us. These practices could easily become tedious and boring, but our coaches often introduce more sophisticated skills along with new, challenging drills. So, to the unsung heroines of Girls' Sports, thanks.

Omniloquence.

A breeze reveals the truth behind its origin in a gentle whisper through the trees.

A wave describes the journey it has suffered in a mild slap against the shore.

A cow laments the alacrity with which time moves in a subtle lowing over the fields.

A mind expresses the evaluation of experiences in a written word upon a page.

Mysteries can be revealed.

Secrets can be unearthed.

Puzzles can be explained, if the Path to Enlightenment is traversed.

Nondescript Ideas are only temporary Enigmas.

These people are deserving of the deepest gratitude from anyone who will at sometime, both in the near and distant future, gain pleasure from the memories preserved on these pages. Hundreds of hours have been spent by this staff in combining creativity with practical skill, available materials, and patience in the intricate process of compiling this yearbook. Few people realize the monumental amount of work that must take place in order for this book to happen. It is no easy task and the rewards are few.

We would like to give our very special thanks to Mrs. Meredith Mooers, our advisor, and Greg Venerella, Editor-in-Chief. Without their guidance, hard work, and many personal sacrifices, this yearbook would never have been possible. Although yearbook is a team effort, these two people bear the bulk of the responsibility and pressure involved.

Despite all the great labors entailed, we all agree that the end product is well worth it.

German Club

The German Club is one of the school's most active clubs. During the year it participates in many annual trips, such as Christmas caroling (pictured here), the fall San Francisco trip, and the Snow trip. Aside from these outings they also do things such as having a speaker who was at the summer games in Munich. The major event of the year for the German Club is the school Language Festival. Much time is spent preparing for it and the work clearly shows in the final product.

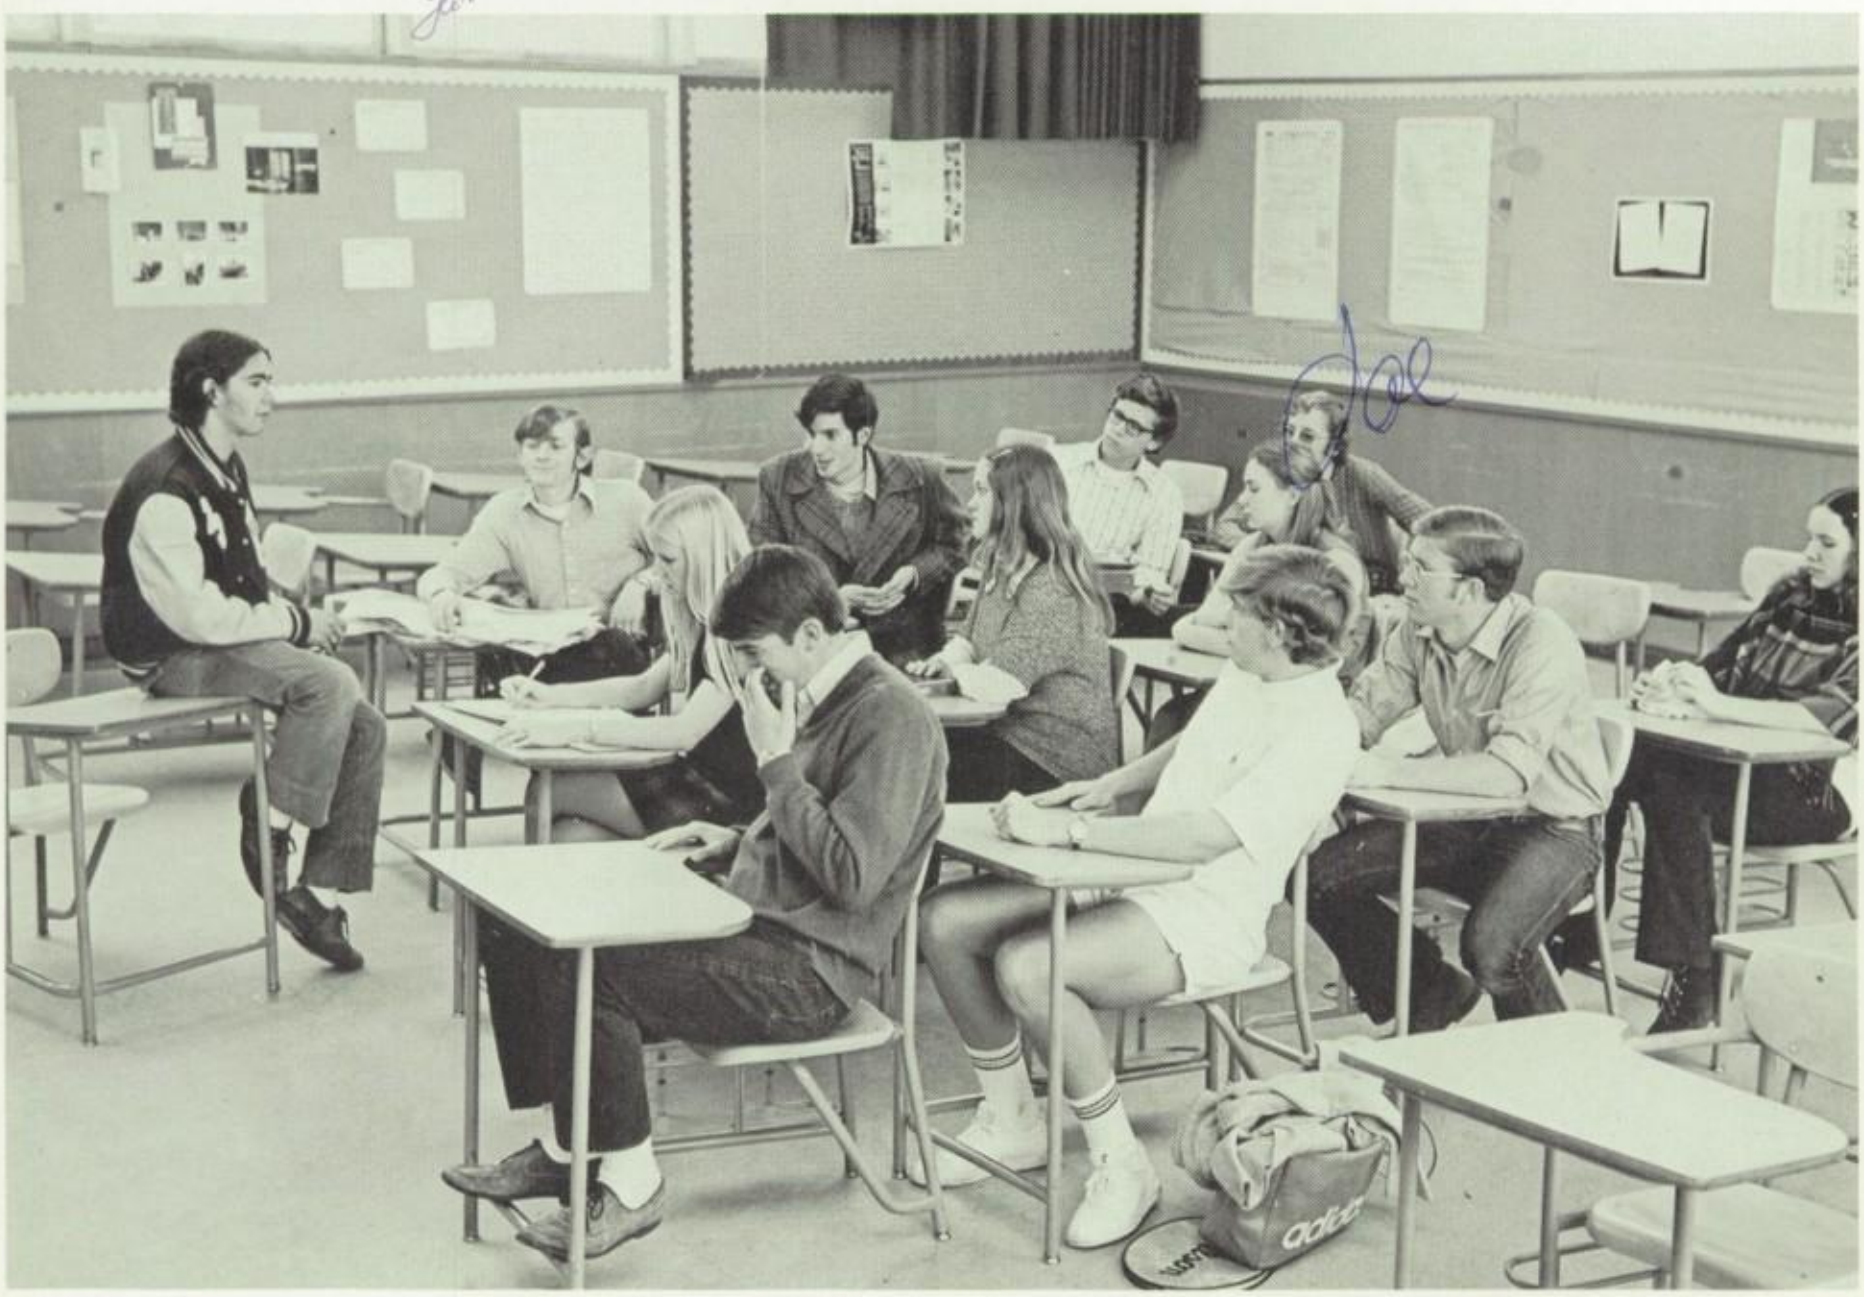
FBLA is a nationally recognized organization which gives high school students the opportunity to appreciate business skills by competing on local, state, and national levels with other members.

Raising all its necessary funds by itself, FBLA attends two conferences where various contests are held. The Bay conference is in San Francisco and the State, at the capitol.

This year, one of our members, Greg Venerella, is serving as the Bay Section Secretary.



Leigh Dolls

Leigh Dolls is a select group of fine young ladies who are dedicated to service for Leigh High School and the community. Special commendations are deserved by these girls who are credits to Leigh.

MUSIC

MARCHING BAND

The Leigh High Music Department embraces all forms of musical expression, from vocal ensembles to theatrical productions. The melodies and tunes of their orchestration continuously seep through the walls of the departmental building, entertaining the campus with streams of euphony. Perfection demands practice and more practice; behind every musical rendition lies hours of laborious study and practice.

the sublime and the beautiful

The remarkable difference between the sublime and the beautiful is that the sublime is vast in its dimensions while the beautiful is comparatively small and intricate. Thus, man's sublimity and beauty are found in his vastness of capacity, ingenuity, and diversity, and his intricacy of individuality personality, and creativity.

It is through the concatenation of these diversities and intricacies that we students have been able to glorify this past year as perhaps the most expressive, significant, and therefore, the most productive we have lived.

CREDITS

Edmund Burke, the author of ON THE SUBLIME AND THE BEAUTIFUL, provided the inspiration for the theme of this year's VINTAGE. His treatise attempts to show that elements of the beautiful, the profound, the sublime, can be found and analyzed in man's environment. In a like manner, I hope this edition of VINTAGE shows Leigh students that those same elements are inherent in one's surroundings, and need only be sought to be found.

Most deserving of thanks is the VINTAGE staff itself. Standing behind the limelight, but publishing Leigh's most widely desired and most highly cherished remembrance, this group has indebted itself to every student who will remember his high school through VINTAGE.

Acknowledgment is also due to the Pischel Yearbook Co. representatives, who, as a liaison between Leigh and the yearbook company, have enabled our staff to function smoothly and effectively.

My particular thanks to Macy's Portrait Studio, for photographing and developing the fine senior portraits in this book; and Commercial Photography for the underclass pictures.

I would also like to thank Herff Jones for making available to Leigh's student body class rings.

The VINTAGE Staff wishes to thank Dave Stock, Bruce Orr, and Gary Morrow for their photographical contributions in the cross country section, the conclusion, and the cover, respectively.

Especial thanks goes to Mr. Bud Boselli for photographing the greater portion of the pictures appearing in this book. His professional skill and creative ingenuity have helped us to present the finest yearbook Leigh has ever seen.

Lastly, but deserving of the highest gratitude, Mrs. Meredith Mooers is to be thanked for her tremendous amount of help in guidance and discretion, as well as the countless hours she has spent after school and at home working to facilitate our jobs.

dear Dennis,

I feel as though we have become close friends even though it has only been within the last six months that we've really gotten to know each other. It seems that in this short time we have gone through so much together - first times at the Fox, political campaigns, parties, break-ups, tearful greetings and involved conversations and let us not forget our first time getting stoned together! There have been very few people in my lifetime that I have become attached to but you Dennis are one of them. Now, in the years to come, and always I will cherish the friendship that we've shared. This will probably sound like a repeat from the birthday card I gave you but birthday cards get thrown away- yearbooks usually don't.

The friendship you have shown me has always meant alot to me. Many times when I have felt down and lonely I have reached for you and you've always been there with concern in your eyes and love in your heart. Dennis, there's been so many times when I've needed someone and I feel like no matter what I say or what I do, it will never be enough. There are very few people left who give but the world is full of people who are continually taking. Your gift to me has been that of giving. No matter what time of day, and no matter where you were- wether it be at your house, my house, on the corner, on your bike, wherever — you would always stop what you were doing and find time for me and I love you for it.

I have admired you from afar but now that I know you I admire you for countless more reasons. I admire your ability to cope. I know that deep down there has to have been some disappointments but I have never seen a drop of a tear nor the trace of an unhappy look. I have been told numerous times that I should learn to control my emotions but I somehow have never seemed to learned. Maybe its a secret and no one's telling me- I don't know. Your ability to reason and see things as they are is something else that I admire and wish was one of my traits. Your intelligence, your smile, your compassion for others, your wit, your charm... all of these make you the wonderful and special person that you are.

I know that no matter where you go or what you do, you will continue to be a success. Your life has shown it in the past and I'm sure will keep showing in the future. Your success has shown in many ways wether it be through the many honours you've recieved or just through the way you live your life. I wish for you the ultimate in all aspects of life. You deserve a life of happiness, success, wealth, and love and I hope that you will never settle for less.

I feel like it sounds like I have found only comfort in our friendship and I don't wish for it to appear that way. I have found happiness in many aspects of our relationship. I will continue to have sweet memories of all the fun things we've done - the park, the times in San Francisco, the times at Steve's house, school, and of course the Senior Ball. I really had a good time and I don't think I ever really thanked you properly. It was very kind of you to take me and I deeply appreciate it. The memories will last forever and ever and you will always hold a place in my heart. Anyway back to what I was saying - it has not been the comfort that I've found it's just that, that has been an important part. The places and people I've sought and found true friendship in have been few and far between. I just want to thank you for being you.

Being a friend is many times a thankless effort. That is why I always like to thank you even if it is just for something small that you've done for me. There is no need for me to say goodbye because I know I will be seeing you this summer besides I hate goodbyes anyway (Sound like your mother?) I hope that you will feel free to come see me and call me for any reason wether it be a problem, just to talk, or for company. I get lonely and I'd like it if you'd drop by and see me. You are welcome at any time.

So, in closing - "Your gifts reach so deeply into the silences of my heart that a word, an expression, a smile, a tear... none of these things could ever begin to describe their effect upon me. they would only seek to categorize what is not a wave but the sea itself."
I wish for you a most beautiful life and may it be filled with much happiness and joy. I know that I have found happiness in a friend who understands & cares for you. I love you as a very special friend and always will.

With much love,

Sharon

PISCHEL YEARBOOKS, INC.

Jen-We have known each other now for six years, and each one of them holds for me a different memory. (Wow-that's six memories!) Our friendship in the beginning was based, I think, upon a respect and an admiration. Later, as we grew to know each other, I think a mutual rivalry was developed; it was rivalry for me, anyway. Still later, I learned to disregard intellectual castings, and appreciate you "merely" for our friendship. I have always been amazed at how neatly our ideas concerning so many different things appear coincident.
